

NATIONAL AUTHORITY FOR TRADE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION

PRESS RELEASE

The National Authority for Trade and Consumer Protection has ordered a recall of salmonella-tainted Auchan steak stew

In order to protect Hungarian families, the National Authority for Trade and Consumer Protection (NATCP) has issued a warning to recall affected products from consumers. According to Auchan Magyarország Kft., Auchan has initiated a consumer recall of the product Auchan Kedvenc bélszínroló 500 g due to the suspected contamination of the product with Salmonella.

According to the notification, the pathogen was detected in the said batch following a self-check. The company, in cooperation with the NATCP, immediately took the necessary measures under its own authority, ensuring the withdrawal of the objected batch from the market and its recall from consumers. The measures taken by the company, and the further outcome (destruction or removal) of the recalled products are being monitored by our Authority. Our Authority has immediately notified consumers of the products concerned, thus preventing potentially defective products from reaching consumers.
